I Wonder

I don't know how to say it, but somehow it seems to me,
That maybe we are stationed just where God wanted us to be.

That the little place I'm filling is the reason for my birth,
And just to do the things I do, He sent me down to earth.

Sometimes I get to thinking as my labors I review,
That I should have a higher place with greater things to do.

But I've come to the conclusion when envying is stilled,
That the place to which God sent me was the place he wanted filled.

Since God knows and understands all things of earth and of sea,

I fancy that He placed me here just where He wanted me.

So I'll plod along and struggle in the hope that when day is thru,

That I'm really necessary in the things God wants to do.

And there isn't any service I can give that I should scorn,

For it may be just the reason God allowed me to be born.
