

I am Ruthe's sister.

I have known Jim for 62 years. As a family, we enjoyed camping trips and stays on the Oregon Coast. He and Ruthe took me out on the Delta for fireworks and an unforgettable graduation party. While we had fun, the most memorable part of what we did were the home improvements.

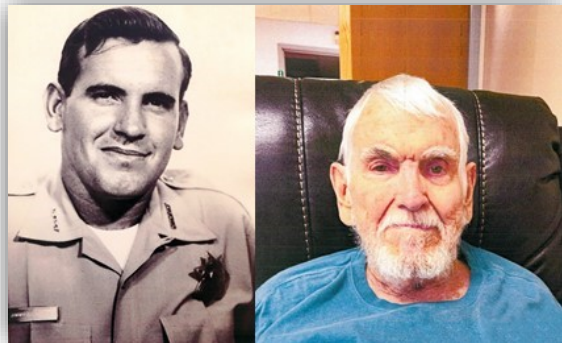

God gifted him with multiple talents. He loved working on projects and helping others. My friendship with Jim was blessed by these projects. He would listen to my suggestions, and when they didn't work, he would come up with innovative solutions to make it work. We laughed our way through many missteps, but always seemed to get a satisfactory result. He taught me many of the skills that I have used through the years in my own remodeling projects.

The work that we, as the Geriatric Construction Company did as a team are a legacy of rock walls and walkways, bookcases and railings, and hundreds of meticulously laid tiles. Our projects never included his amazing stained glass works.

We were given a gift when Jim joined our family, and we are grateful that we had our time with him. I reflect on his statements that "the problem with pets is that they die, and it is so terrible that we can not have them longer." With his passing, I pray that he will be in a place where he can have his pets, and they will be inseparable.
