

One We Hold Dear

Betty Ann

When all that's left are memories of our loved one we hold dear,
We start to reminisce and think back through the years
Of all those special moments when she was by our side,
Guiding us and helping us along on this ride.
When someone needed help, she wouldn't hesitate
To step up and serve, be it small or something great.
From treats to cards to visits, she always took the time
Even driving a friend to cancer treatments was something she didn't mind.
She made shopping fun, and loved a good fabric store,
Sewing beautiful quilts, Christmas socks, and baby blankets galore!
She'd help work cows and make sure that all the crew got fed.
And she could back up a trailer with the best of them.
Betty Ann and Ted have a great love for one another
And she enjoyed supporting him in all his endeavors.
The family they created are dear to her heart,
And now she'll watch over them, even though they're apart.
She's just beyond the veil, for death is not the end.
Life is eternal, and we know we'll see her again.
